HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE

SYCOPHANCY, intrigue, tintinnabulating phraseology that means ing men to me every few hours, when that they can find one that they think has smirking smile that is self-seeking rather than benevolent—these any influence, and urging me to get are but a few of the many qualifications that a candidate for the supreme judgship of Nevada should not possess. There is one man who is wholly lacking in these characteristics, for the reason that he studiously avoids them. He likewise is not given to arrogance, nor double dealing. He accepts his salary as full compensation for his services and employs no deputies to perform his duties. While he is a Republican in principle, and has always been, he is not a partisan to the extent of scathingly criticising those who hold to views which he does not entertain, nor set pitfalls for his opponents.

Judge T. F. (Barney) Moran, candidate for justice of the office, and not tell the people how supreme court of the state of Nevada, is the person referred to. He has been known to the writer for many years. At first acquaintance he was a physical toiler, as he is now a mental toiler. He was efficiency in public work." They a railroad man "and a good one." It is related of him that his urge me to let well enough alone, or evenings were not spent in the social enjoyments which are the I'll cut myself out of the biggest part privilege of every man who does the labor of the day, but they of the money in the office, and for were occupied in poring over law books, which were his constant companions, even when his duties called him out to points on I don't want it. I don't want a cent the line.

"Barney," having mastered the details of the profession, essayed to become district attorney of Washoe county. It was not deemed why they are so afraid of the few possible that he could even be nominated, for his was not the little questions I asked and the ex- under bond, and was never short a polished manner and the suave, unmeaning expression that decorates the countenances of so many shallow, cunning creatures who aspire office and find a lot of irregularities the Oddfellows Building association, to office with its honors and emoluments. Plain "Barney" went after the change is made. Fourteen that financed the building of the among the plain people. He told them that he would perform the years is a long time without a Oddfellows building, and I have never official duties to the ultimate point of conscientiousness and, he change, except one man handing it been found short a penny in my ventured to say, with ability.

The people of Washoe county took him at his word and he and ruin my reputation, so that they was nominated over the heads of several good men. Then he was can defeat me. elected over a most capable and conscientious opponent. He made good.

As his term of office neared its conclusion he aspired to the district judgship. History repeated itself. He became Judge Moran and it was at a time when the calendar of Washoe county was friends come to me and tell me they burdened with many criminal and civil actions, some of the latter "know all about you, and if you don't being of most difficult decision. A number of appeals were taken quit they will expose you at the from his rulings, but the supreme court in very rare instances differed from him in judgment.

Again his term was about to expire and this time he was that stuff they are in luck. First candidate for re-election. He was a negligible quantity in the place I never was in Alaska; I never campaign. It was conceded that he would be nominated and elected had a gun fight with any one; I never and the only interest was in the choosing of the judge who would sit with him in the second judicial district court.
